

Meet Gabirelle!

"I have had a strong passion for animals my whole life, but I always found a stronger connection with horses. I always had a cat or a dog growing up but never a horse, my motor-head of a father thought a dirty bike would be a good substitute. My mom is a teacher. As a kid I found myself watching her and how she was able to work with so many kids and adults and how it brought her happiness. Now as an adult I find the same happiness with helping people of all ages in my day to day life.

When I was in college I learned about the powers of therapeutic riding! I knew this was my calling in life. I am so excited to share my love for horses with others and use my passion in a positive way.

I now live on a small acreage with my husband, who grain farms and works in my fathers mechanic shop. Together we have our own horses, dogs and the most spoiled cat Nim."
